Inside Scoop: CROATIA

Know before you go: travel isn’t just your destination, it’s also the journey

A true jewel of the Adriatic, Croatia is unique, surprising, largely unspoiled, stunningly beautiful, historically significant and a rare find—all that and much more describes the country across the sea from Italy. Besides being a country travellers consistently rave about, costs are reasonable. Some tips:

- Have a valid passport that will not expire six months before the end of your trip. www.cic.gc.ca/english/passport/index.asp
- While there are luxury hotels, it’s a fairly casual country, reflected in costs. Whatever your budget, aim to relax and enjoy. Special requests are only requests; unless you’ve paid for a sea view, upgrade fees apply.
- Croatian is the official language but most people working in hotels, restaurants and shops speak English. Download a translation app or listen to online pronunciations.
- Electricity: you’ll need a European grounded E or F, or non-grounded C adaptor
- Telephone and internet service is available at almost every accommodation. Before you go, contact your or cell phone provider (be aware of roaming charges)
- Currency is the Kuna (kn/HRK). The country’s in transition to Euros so order those from your bank to have cash on arrival and change to Kunas there; some sites accept Euros. Some smaller shops and restaurants only take cash/Kuna, no credit or debit cards. Note: ATM fees per withdrawal can be high (~$5.) so don’t withdraw small amounts.

Pack Strategically

The world is overrun with black luggage so put coloured tape or ribbon on yours to spot them quickly. Put your name outside and inside and remove old tags. In your carry-on, pack valuables such as jewellery and as medicine must be declared, bring prescription drugs in original containers or a doctor’s letter.

Items travellers pack in carry-on: pen/notebook, hand wipes, munchies (no fruit, meat or veg), a change of underclothes and shirt. Pack liquids/lotions/gels in checked bags (inside plastic bags)—due to carry-on restrictions, the maximum size is 100ml(3.4oz). All must fit in a clear/resealable plastic bag of no more than 1 litre (often available at airport screening), then place it in the tray. You may take baby formula, food or milk for a child younger than 2 years of age (0-24 months).

Permitted in carry-on: laptops, portable music players, cell phones, disposable razors, umbrellas, canes and nail clippers. Items you can’t take on: knives, corkscrews and sports gear.

Most hotels provide hair dryers so save space for souvenirs. For clothing, as with Canada’s climate, think layers. Even November, while chilly, sites are open and cheaper, being off-season.

Above all, travel with a positive attitude—having patience and a spirit of adventure will carry you through any experience.

In Croatian:
please is molim
(pronounced mo-leem)
thank you is hvala ti,
(pronounced hvah-luh-ti)
thanks is hvah-luh

Must-See Areas

With four regions, the central area includes Zagreb. Slavonia to the east and northwest, Istria the beautiful peninsula with the city of Pula and a Roman arena. Dalmatia is the absolutely gorgeous narrow coastal region on the eastern coast of the Adriatic Sea that’s definitely (we mean for sure) an area you must go. Drive and/or take a boat tour or bus along the coast. With 1,244 islands and mountains, the area is breathtaking. Why? Think Italy, then think “across the sea” with reasonable prices. Renting a car is a great way to travel (highway tolls charged), otherwise bus and train travel is reasonably priced. Just be sure to take the coastal road along the Dalmatia

Can’t get that castle, island or famous-among-fans shaming walk scene out of your head? Then you must be a Game of Thrones fan, for yes, it was filmed partially around the islands, also in Dubrovnik and Split—ask your counsellor about booking tours of GOT filming sites and boat tours (with enough sheer beauty and history for those who are not fans).

Your Airline

Sign up on your airline(s) websites for email or text notifications (as your flight could be delayed). CATSA notes “Travellers should arrive at the airport earlier than usual, exercise patience and contact their airline for further information on their flight(s).” Airline staff are on usually on duty some 3hrs prior: due to staffing and increased security, check-in closes 1hr before departure. If late, you’re not entitled to board (or a refund). Unless booked ahead, seats are assigned by the airline: first-come first-served. Check-in online is usually allowed from 24 hours before departure. Some airlines do reciprocal code-shares; your ticket is for one airline, you travel on the other).

For check-in and carry-on baggage allowances and restrictions, check your airline’s website, www.catsa.gc.ca/home or ask your counsellor. We strongly recommend Maritime Travel medical and cancellation/interruption insurance to cover unanticipated issues.

Food & Beverage Specialities

We’ll start with the famous cream cake kremšnita, also try strudel filled with apples or cherries (especially good as sour cherries are bottled here, sold in some Canadian supermarkets!). For wine, Croatia’s most famous red grape is Plavac (where California’s deep red Zinfandel originates), the most common white Graševina (Welschriesling) is light and aromatic. Burek is crispy thin pastry stuffed with cheese or meat, slices from a huge pan (like pizza). Tip: If you book a “typical country meal” and are vegetarian, check the menu prior (they’re often chicken, pork and potato). While Bled Cream Cake (yum) is Slovenian, some pastry shops have a good variation.

When You’re There

Zagreb, the capital city “has the biggest lounge”—in nice weather, people hang about in parks, markets, promenades and cafés, particularly around the Green Horseshoe and main square Ban Josip Jelačić (“THE square”). Its 925th birthday in 2019, its status culturally, historically and economically is well earned. Among 60 museums is the world’s first Museum of Broken Relationships, holding the bits and stories from relationships gone bad (and accepts donations), in Upper Town’s baroque Kulmer Palace (circa 1776, <https://brokenships.com>). Staircases connect the lower “down” town or off Ilica St (shopping) at the end of Tomićeva St, take a funicular ride. Don’t get too comfy—it takes 55 seconds. If you love open-air markets, head to the Dolac near the Gothic style Zagreb Cathedral.

Plitvice Lakes National Park is between Zagreb and Zadar with 16 connected lakes and waterfalls. On UNESCO’s list of World Heritage sites since 1979, accommodation from camping to hotels is available, <http://np-plitvicka-jezera.hr/en>.

Depending where you go, you may see evidence of the Homeland War (1991 to 1995) when some 185,000 homes, churches and cultural sites were destroyed. A complicated time of civil and government unrest with military clashes, 20,000 people died and half a million were displaced (first use of the term “ethnic cleansing”).

Now, to the organ, on/in the Adriatic Sea in Zadar. With 9th century BC remnants of Roman inhabitants, this old harbour town is sheltered by a Venetian 16th century wall. Two modern sites are essential to see: the solar Sun Salutation of the planets set into stone by the sea (hint: look for blue circles of varying sizes) and the Sea Organ, both on the northwest corner of the Riva promenade. Listen. From the top step to the sea, look for holes in the pavement. Listen. Mournful harmonious sounds—depending on the wind and waves through this art installation’s 35 pipes—an organ with pipes of varying lengths (excellent YouTube video of both 2:42mins at www.youtube.com/watch?v=LBhk5KFwLVc). Split is a terrific spot. Tour Diocletian’s Palace. Not a fan of ancient history? You will be. It’s a miracle of architecture and engineering (in 295AD!). The upper area where the emperor lived until residents threw him over now has gorgeous million Euro homes. The city is great for wandering and harbour café life.

You must visit Dubrovnik, Pearl of the Adriatic, UNESCO site, unofficial wonder of the world (King’s Landing for Game of Thrones fans). It’s stunning night or day. Old Town inside the walls is walking only (don’t wear heels). For beautiful views, all angles, walk ON the wall (almost 2kms with exits). Take a boat tour from the Old Harbour. See the Museum of Croatian War of Independence on the ground floor of Srdj Imperial Fort by cable car (go to top of the stairs for another great view). Tip: if you can’t make it to the museum there’s a room inside the Old Town off the Stradun (main street) honouring locals who died with information on the war. Tip: go past Dubrovnik to the lookout, back to the city—that’s the billion dollar view.

Slovenia & Montenegro Intriguing Side Trips

Consider a side trip to Slovenia. In the time it takes to drive from Toronto to Oakville, Ontario in rush hour (1.5hrs), you could drive from Zagreb to Ljubljana—a beautiful strolling city, winding amid its older areas and bridges, perhaps find a festival. Be sure to try pumpkin seed oil; simply dip bread in for a flavourful snack. Buy a bottle for home salad dressings (don’t pack in carry-on bag, put in a plastic bag with lock top).

West of Ljubljana is Bled Castle on an island cliff in Lake Bled; if you eat anything, eat Bled Cream Cake (you’re welcome). Another super trip is Montenegro; the caves that hid war ships are still there. In Kotor Bay, Perast’s artificial island is the site of a shipwreck and Lady of the Rocks church, protector of sailors and fishers with marine art (one wife using her hair as embroidery thread while she waited for her husband to return from sea, the “thread” going from light brown to grey over the years...).
